SPECIAL TO THE DAILY BRITISH COLONIST.

LAST NIGHT'S DESPATCHES.

Eastern States.

WASHINGTON, Feb 17—It is reported on good authority that General Sherman has written to the President declining to accept either the brevet rank tendered or the command of a new department. In case the President refuses to relieve him he will tender his resignation.

WASHINGTON, Feb 17—Amendments to diplomatic appropriation bill, providing for missions to Greece and Rome were rejected.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—The press all comment on the Grant and Johnson correspondence. The Tribune says Grant has entirely overthrown the charge of insubordination, and that Johnson appears willing to wound, but is afraid to strike.

The Herald declares for Grant for President. The Times says Grant may have been hasty, and may have given the President to understand that he would aid in keeping Stanton out; but no doubt he prepared him for his final action.

The World says Grant is convicted of duplicity, and that he has pursued an unmanly course. The Sun says the net wherein the President and four of his Secretaries sought to ensnare Grant has been totally destroyed. The Post says the President merely plays the scold. The Commercial thinks both the President and Grant acted honestly, and regards the conflict as one of the miserable consequences of Radicalism.

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—Some difficulty has occurred between Hancock and Grant in consequence of the former's reorganization of the New Orleans City Council. The telegraph does not furnish the details. It is inferred from what is said that Grant has directed Hancock to revoke the order. The latter declined, and has laid the facts before the President. It is reported that Hancock has tendered his resignation.

South America.

NEW YORK, Feb 17—Cholera was raging terribly at Buenos Ayres. There being from 150 to 200 victims daily. The citizens were flying from the city.

At Villa Nueva ten out of twenty laborers on the railroad had died, almost all the laborers and people were flying in all directions.

California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb 17—New York quotations at 11 o'clock: gold, 141½; legal tenders, 71@71½.

Flour unchanged, restricted to the wants of the local market. Wheat $2 70. Barley apparently firm at $1 80@1 90. Oats, $1 85@1 95.

Europe.

BERLIN, Feb 17—The illness of Bismarck is serious; he is unable to leave his bed.
FLORENCE, Feb 17—Council has at length resolved to pay part of the Papal debt.

HORSE TRAINING.—From want of time on Monday, we had not the opportunity of speaking of Mr Bartholomew's success in the manner it merits. We could only give then the results of his system, which would convey no idea to those not present of the process; and this, of course, is the most interesting and instructive part of the entertainment. It was nearly an hour before the sulky and obstinate brute would allow Mr B. to touch him; but with wonderful patience, he kept quietly approaching nearer and nearer, until he was allowed to rub the horse's shoulder and neck with his whip. After this he soon rubbed him with his hands, and then the manner in which he succeeded in conveying his wishes and ideas to the horse and making him obey them, was really wonderful. It seemed as if a perfect understanding had been reached between them, and that whatever Mr B. willed, the animal readily did. Some think a strong drag, pleasing but stupefying to the horse was put on the end of the whip, which the animal certainly seemed to take much pleasure in smelling; but if so, that would militate against the quick comprehension the animal showed from that time to the close of the performance. We prefer rather to regard the conquest as a complete triumph of mind over matter, and of the human will over impulse. Mr B. in his introduction remarked that if a man will make an horse understand that he is his friend, that he does not wish to harm him, the man can then do what he pleases with the animal. So it proved in this case; for Mr B. did a number of things with the wild colt in hand which it would be dangerous to attempt with the best broken lady's horse in the colony. It must, therefore, be the result of a system based on patience, kindness, courage, strength, activity, and if so, a system which submits itself to the reason of every man. No one will deny, we think, that Mr B. exhibited all these virtues during the performance in a striking manner. It seems to us the system might be applied with advantage to the human race, and that it, in our daily intercourse with each other, we repeated the little episode of Mr B. and the wild colt, the world would be the more the worse for it. On Saturday next, Mr B. it is understood, will give another exhibition, with a more vicious animal, when we advise all who can attend to do so.

THE ALBERT MEDAL.—The Queen has been pleased to confer the decoration of "The Albert Medal of the Second Class" on John Rickett, A. B. of her Majesty's ship Clio. The following is an account of the services in respect of which the decoration has been conferred:—On the 24th of May, 1866, whilst her Majesty's ship Clio was lying at anchor off the Ajiabampo, on the coast of Mexico, a boy named Thomas (or Tom) Walton, belonging to her, fell into the sea from a stage outside the ship. He was unable to swim, and was sinking the third time, when John Rickett jumped into the water, brought him to the surface, got him to the ship's side, and there supported him for ten or fifteen minutes, when the ship's boat reached them. A man named Card assisted to hold the boy up from overhead. There was a heavy sea on at the time, and the port was known to be infested with sharks, and just as the ship's boat came up, Rickett, who was at the time still suffering from the effects of an attack of coast fever, and was in consequence very weak, relaxed his hold of the cable, and himself dropped into the water, from which he was picked up just in time to save his life. Both were insensible when taken into the boat.

ROYAL (FIRE AND LIFE) INSURANCE CO. The handsomely executed annual of this company for 1868 has been laid on our table by Messrs Sproat & Co., agents for this Colony. The Royal is a favorite with Canadian insurers, and the book contains, among other things, a variety of valuable information concerning the New Dominion, its resources, names of members of the Government and Parliament, and the Tariff. There are also short biographical sketches of the Princess Matilda, the ill-starred Emperor Maximilian and the late Prince Consort. The Royal Insurance Co. have lately decided to admit present participating policy holders with all holders of participating policies issued after 1st January, 1868, to an increased share of the profits. As the company is a mutual benefit one this admission will be profitable to participants. The agents here have power now to accept lives without transmitting the proposal to England, a fact that will greatly increase the business of the company in the Colony.

In olden time the State of Connecticut was noted for the production of wooden hams and nutmegs, and shoopees that sold for oats—some smart operators actually palming off upon unsuspecting dealers the counterfeit for the real articles—and to this day Connecticut is known as the Wooden Nutmeg State. The reputation of Oregon seems in a fair way of being wrecked through the operations of a swindler, who has been selling the Portland merchants ham skins stuffed with salt. The meat was extracted from the interior of the hams and the cavity filled with salt. In this way the swindler is supposed to have realized some five or six hundred dollars, with which he made his escape.

Municipal Council.

Council met on Tuesday evening at seven o'clock, His Worship the Mayor in the Chair. Present, Councillors Lewis, Crump, Jeffray, McKay and Gibbs.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved. Communications from the Secretaries of the Victoria Gas Co. and Spring Ridge Water Co., regarding the excavation of streets, were read and ordered to be placed on file.

Communication from M Noltemier, asking permission to lay a street crossing. On motion the Clerk was instructed to inform Mr Noltemier that the application for crossing must be made by the property-owners where the said crossing is to be constructed.

Communication from W S Green, in relation to the balance of his claim, was read and ordered to be placed on file, and the Clerk instructed to inform Mr Green that the Council would pay his claim out of the first available funds.

An account from the Colonist Office for $144 for printing and advertising. Referred to Finance Committee to report thereon at the next meeting of the Council.

A communication from Ld. Lowenberg which was not acted upon at last meeting of the Council, relating to the repair of stairs at the corner of Government and Humboldt Streets, was on motion taken up and referred to the Street Committee to report thereon at the next meeting.

The Chairman of Finance Committee reported that the amount of $2,000 for the Fire Insurance rate had been paid to the Treasurer of the Victoria Fire Department.

The bonds of the Messenger were submitted and approved.

Council adjourned to meet on Tuesday next at 7 o'clock.

THE CONCERT.—A crowded house greeted the performers last evening at the Theatre. The entertainment was the best of the kind yet given here. Too much praise cannot be awarded Miss Yeoman, Mr Geo. Edwards, Mr. Gunther, Mr. Palmer, Mr. Alton and Mr. Bushell, for the excellent manner in which they played or sang. The encores were frequent and the satisfaction afforded the audience seemed unbounded. We are surprised at the chaste entertainments of a character similar to that of last evening are no more frequently given.

VICTIMS OF EXPERIMENTS.—The Times says:—"It is a remarkable fact that no sooner does one of her Majesty's ship's find itself in dock, or alongside the dockyard, at Portsmouth, than down is sure to come an order from the Admiralty for the trial of some new scheme of cooking, to carry out which it is necessary to take the dinners of a certain number of men from the ship. In nine cases out of ten the invention utterly fails, and the men lose their dinners or eat them half cooked."

FRENCH BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.—An abstract of the annual report of this Society is published to-day, from which it would appear that the association is in a highly flourishing state—the assets being $2630 37, and the liabilities nil. This successful association admits to membership natives of every country.

Ups and Downs in Furs.

A furdealer thus epitomizes an experience of twenty five years in the business. Just a quarter of a century ago I entered the fur trade, paying eighteen cents for mink, twenty-two cents for muskrat, and two dollars for little pellow martin skins. During these twenty five years there have been some wide ranges of prices; I have sold a lot of mink for eight hundred dollars that now would bring twenty-four thousand dollars. Then, again, I have sold a lot of coon for thirteen thousand dollars, that in London to-day would not bring two thousand dollars. The little martin skin is now worth the same price of a yellow dog skin—two shillings. The opossum has been from three to sixty; and is down to eight cents. War has been one cause of these fluctuations; but that mightier power than armies, fashion, has done the most. While the combined armies of Europe could only put down coon and skunk fifty per cent., that powerful goddess, fashion, run the eighteen cents mink up to fifteen dollars, and knocked the big black lynx mink down to four shillings.

Death of Mr. Fergusson-Blair.

Mr. A J Fergusson-Blair, died on Monday at Ottawa. Mr. Blair was the eldest son of the Hon Adam Fergusson, of Woodhill, and took the name of Blair in 1862, on falling heir to the estate of Balhoyock, in Scotland. He was born about the year 1814 and having been called to the bar of Upper Canada, he was in 1843, appointed Judge of the district of Wellington. He retained the office until 1848, when he resigned it to accept the county of Waterloo with Mr. Webster. The latter was declared elected by the returning officer, but he was unseated on petition, and Mr Fergusson took his seat on the 8th February, 1849, and retained it till 1854, when he was elected for the new county of South Wellington, from which he retired in 1857. In 1860, he was elected to the Legislative Council for the Brock Division, and in March, 1863, was called to the Executive Council in the Macdonald-Dorion Cabinet. He resigned on the 27th May, 1863, but resumed office on the 24th July, and resigned with the rest of the Cabinet on 19th March, 1864. During the negotiations which followed, Mr. Blair was entrusted with the task of forming a Cabinet, but failed, and remained out of office until Mr. Brown's retirement from the Coalition Ministry, in December, 1865. Since then he has been a member of the Macdonald Cabinet.

Mr. Blair was a sound lawyer and able politician. His retiring habits prevented him rising to the position to which his talents entitled him; but he secured the respect and esteem of all classes in the neighborhood in which he resided, and his death will be deeply regretted by all who knew him. He did good service to the cause of Upper Canada during the trying time from 1852 to 1864, as well as earlier, and whatever political errors he may have since committed will be willingly forgotten by his old friends, from whom we believe he never separated in spirit, as his conduct at last election showed.

New South Wales.

Parliament is still sitting. The Native Ministry retain office, but a vote of censure hangs over their heads to the effect that the treasurer's ways and means are insufficient. A new municipalities bill has just been passed by the Lower House. A bill imposing additional stamp duties has also been proposed, but its provisions are so prejudicial to commercial men that a considerable modification or the defeat of the measure is inevitable.

Green and Hickey have again been matched for the championship. They are to row on January 4th for £200.

H M S Brisk has returned from Feejee without having punished the murderers of the Rev Mr Baker and party. Her commander reports that the native chiefs had taken action in the matter and he left it in their hands.

His Excellency the Governor and party are at present visiting the southern district. He will leave for England by the December overland mail and should Earl Belmore not have arrived by that time, Sir Trevor Chute, Commander of the Forces in Australia, will assume the viceregal duties.

The Roman Catholic clergy have decided on giving up the public stipends paid to their school teachers so long as their educational course was free from any religious element. Great preparations are being made for the visit of Prince Alfred. 45 steamers have arranged to proceed to sea on his arrival off the coast and escort the Galatea into port.

A very remarkable sort of an elopement has just occurred from Albrighton, Shropshire, and as it is the second time that the hero in the case has essayed the same feat, his final success has created quite a sensation. It appears that some few weeks since the gay Lothario took his departure from his native place accompanied by the daughter of a clergyman living in the locality. The pair resorted to a small town on the borders of the county of the purpose of having the marriage ceremony performed. Fortunately, however, the friends of the young lady ascertained her whereabouts, and by dint of great persuasion induced the fair one to desert her lover. It would naturally be supposed that this untoward event would have resulted in a broken heart and an early funeral; but the young fellow, with a philosophy worthy of a better cause, adapted himself to circumstances which he could not control, and returned to his native village. The inhabitants concluded that he had now been completely cured of his romantic ideas, but the notion proved to be erroneous. Once more he has left the place, and with him departed a young lady, possessed of a large amount of property, and said to be extremely good-looking. As soon as the discovery was made, inquiries were set on foot and a pursuit took place. The last named elopement took place last week, and intelligence has just been received that the lovers have been married at Derby. As a matter of course, much annoyance is felt by the parent of the young lady—a widow of large property—who was desirous of her daughter forming a good alliance.

NAVAL SUPPLIES.—In a few days Messrs. Wilson & Co. will open the premises at Esquimalt, lately occupied by Mr S. Nesbitt, as a depot and bread and biscuit bakery for the supply of Navy Messes, Merchant Shipping and residents generally, at Victoria prices.

The trade returns of Canada for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1867, together with a statement of the trade of the year ending June 30th, 1866, have just been published. In these returns it appears that the total value of exports and imports of Canada, including coin and bullion, was as follows:

	Exports.	Imports.
Year ending June 30, 1866.....	$56,318,380.	$53,802,319.
Year ending June 30, 1867.....	48,483,143.	59,048,987.
Decrease.....	$7,835,237.	$5,816,668.

The export trade of 1866 in goods the produce of Canada, and including products of the mines, fisheries, forests, animals and their produce, agricultural products, manufactures, vessels built at Quebec, miscellaneous articles and coin and bullion, was $52,134,688 against $45,070,219 in 1867. The following statement shows the different countries to which these exports were made and the respective amounts:

	1866.	1867.
To Great Britain.....	$12,706,668.	$13,253,096.
To British North America.....	1,571,116.	5,418,689.
To British West Indies.....	63,913.	53,815.
To United States.....	32,557,433.	27,869,084.
To France.....	110,332.	266,487.
To Germany.....	52,705.	20,344.
To other foreign countries.....	700,714.	594,377.
	$47,859,201.	$49,470,102.

From the above it will be seen that in 1867 nearly $10,000,000 less of Canadian produce was exported to the United States than in 1866, while there has been an increase of about $500,000 to Great Britain and $1,850,000 to British North America. The decrease in the exports to the United States has been in animals and in flour principally—the result of the abrogation of the Reciprocity Treaty. In 1866 the total of imports was $53,802,319, against $59,048,987 in 1867. The increase of nearly two millions and a half in dutiable goods is made up chiefly in the articles of woollens (of which about a million and a half were imported in 1867 in excess of 1866), sugar, iron and hardware, Indian corn and other grains, free to August 15, 1866, but subsequently paying duty. The increase in coin and bullion coming into Canada is very noticeable, amounting to about $1,220,000. The following statement shows the excess of coin and bullion imported over that exported in 1866 and 1867:

	1866.	1867.
Coin, &c., imported.....	$5,191,842.	$6,411,312.
Coin, &c., exported.....	2,397,591.	2,910,034.
Remaining in Canada.....	$2,794,251.	$3,496,278.

Subjoined is a comparative statement of the value of imports, omitting coin and bullion, classified according to countries, for 1865-66 and 1866-67:

	1865.	1867.
From Great Britain.....	$28,064,699.	$31,000,069.
From British North America.....	857,769.	1,198,273.
From British West Indies.....	105,060.	137,802.
From the United States.....	14,001,433.	14,001,433.
From France.....	1,715,060.	1,174,481.
From Germany.....	333,810.	353,491.
From other foreign countries.....	1,810,615.	1,711,131.

It will thus be seen that Canada took from Great Britain over five millions of dollars worth more in 1867 than in 1866, while from the United States she took less in 1867 by $1,180,000. We also find that while that province imported from Great Britain in 1867 much more than double her exports to that country, the United States gave her nearly nine millions of dollars less than she took, paying specie for a large share of the balance against them. The same fact was also apparent in 1866, and in a more remarkable degree, but that year was exceptional in its character, embracing, as it did, the period of great activity previous to the abrogation of the Reciprocity Treaty. From these facts it would appear that the United States have more to gain by a new treaty than Canada has, and that it could hardly fail to benefit both countries.

Prince Alfred in Australia.
HIS MOVEMENTS THERE.

SYDNEY, Dec. 1, 1867.

The Prince's visit has been the absorbing topic of the month. His Royal Highness spent twenty-three days in South Australia, and during that time business there was suspended. During his stay there he received deputations and addresses from all the public bodies, gave a levee at Government House, attended banquets and balls got up in honor of his visit, was serenaded by six hundred members of the German musical societies each bearing a torch, reviewed the volunteers, attended the opera and was so delighted with the magnificent impersonation of Madame Escott as the Duchess of Ferrara, and Mr. Squires as Genaro, in L'Inferno, that he has become the patron of the Lyster troupe during their stay in the colonies. On the 5th ult. he laid the foundation stone of the Wesleyan College, and afterwards visited the Kapunda mines; then spent a week in the lake country, fishing, shooting, witnessing native corroborees and otherwise enjoying himself. On the night of the 19th he attended a grand ball at Government House, and on the 20th embarked on board the Galathea. On the 21st the Galathea left Glenelg; at noon that day she was reported off Port McDonnell and on the 23d arrived at Port Phillip Heads, the entrance to the harbor of the capital of Victoria, where she was met by Governor Sir Mansel Pleydell, the Hon.

J. McCulloch (the Premier), and other members of the Ministry who had arrived there on the previous evening in the colonial war steamer Victoria. A flotilla of twenty-five steamers arrived soon after from Melbourne having on board over ten thousand passengers, and as soon as the Galathea proceeded up the bay the steamers took up their assigned positions in two lines, and thus escorted the Galathea arrived at her moorings, amidst salvos of artillery from ships and shore batteries.
This was late on last Saturday evening, and it was considered advisable to postpone the Prince's official landing until Monday. Accordingly at noon on the 25th his Royal Highness the Duke of Edinburgh landed on Victorian soil. The day was in every respect a holiday. A cloudless blue sky such as those living in the temperate zones never see, the shipping dressed with colors, the public buildings and business premises decked with flags, evergreens and transparencies, and many festooned with brilliant colored drapery. The city was crowded with visitors, and fully 150,000 persons thronged the streets. On stepping ashore the Prince was escorted by the Governor and Executive Council. Fifty young girls, dressed in white, strewed the path with flowers, and after receiving an address from the Mayor of Sandridge, he entered the carriage, accompanied by the Governor and the equestrian in waiting, amidst the acclamations of the multitude. The procession then proceeded to Emerald Hill, where a splendid triumphal arch was erected, under which the Mayor and Corporation presented an address to the royal visitor, and a large number of children sang the national anthem. The Friendly Societies here joined the processions, which extended fully a mile, and entered Melbourne under the triumphal arch on Prince's Bridge. The Mayor and Corporation of Melbourne on a raised dais presented the Prince with their address in the presence of at least 50,000 spectators; and eleven thousand school children sang the national anthem. The procession then proceeded westward down Collins street, where a triumphal arch had been erected, through William, Bourke, and Spring streets to the Treasury—where the Addresses from the Legislative Council and Assembly were presented amid immense cheering. From the Treasury the procession proceeded along Collins street and Swanston street to Toorak where Government House was placed at his entire disposal.

The excitement was immense and the day singularly free from accidents. The only one of any note being an infant crushed to death in the arms of its mother, who had thoughtlessly rushed with the throne to see the Prince. At night, Fitzroy Gardens, one of the most spacious and tasteful amongst the public reserves set apart as "lungs for the city," was illuminated with about 6000 colored-lamps, Chinese lanterns, &c., while from the Flagstaff hill and other parts of the city fireworks were displayed, and as far as the eye could reach or telescope aid the vision, every hill within a radius of fifty miles was crested with flames. Such bonfires never were seen before, some of them contained over 100 tons of firewood rendered still more inflammable by the addition of tar, resin, &c. On Tuesday the Prince held a levee, at which 2000 persons were present, and in the evening the illuminations, par excellence, took place.
Every form of gas device, all descriptions of transparencies, in fact everything and anything that would add to the brilliancy of the scene had been provided, and the Prince, being driven through the principal streets with Sir Mansel and Lady Sutton, stated that even in London he had never seen anything so brilliant, except the reception of the Princes of Wales.
On the 27th the festivities commenced with a cricket match—Natives of Australia against the World, which the former won. At night there was another display of fireworks and illuminations during which an event occurred which has to some extent marred the eclat of the occasion. On the Protestant Hall a large public building in which the Orange Lodges meet, a transparency was displayed which offended some of the Roman Catholic party, who have on almost every occasion used their influence to repress any public acts tending to advance the interests of their Protestant fellow colonists. A party of Catholics attacked the building and destroyed the transparency, and in return were fired upon by some of the inmates of the building, who shot three of the Catholic party. Next day four of the Orange party were arrested and remanded for a week. On Thursday there was a grand free banquet to the poor and never was such a spread seen before in Australia. Covers were laid for 20,000; a committee of 200 married ladies, each assisted by seven young ladies and gentlemen ad libitum, acted as hostesses, croupiers and waiters.
Fountains of native wine supplied the beverages, and between guests and spectators fully 100,000 persons were present; but the festivities were marred by the absence of the Prince, whose conduct in acting thus has given great offence to the colonists whose bounty gratuitously provided a free repast for their poorer brethren. The Prince visited the theatre at night, and next day laid the foundation stone of the new Town Hall.

Yesterday was a gala day in the sporting world, as the Victorian Racing Club had provided a special day's racing in honor of the Prince, and voted £1600 as stakes in addition to the sweepstakes subscribed by the owners of the horses. The events were:—A plate of £100 won by Mr. Fisher's Satellite.
Hurdle Race of £150 added to a sweepstake of five sovereigns each, 20 subscribers for which 18 started; Mr. Fisher's Satellite again proving the winner, Lady Clara second.
The Sapling Stakes of 10 sovereigns each with £200 added, won by D. J. Smith's Melancholy, Jacques Louve second, Penella third. The Duke of Edinburgh Stakes of 5 sovereigns each with £500 added, won by Tim Whiffler (a Sydney horse by New Warrior) Exile second, Fireworks third. The Galathea Stakes of 10 sovereigns each with £250 added, by Mr. Tai's Fireworks, by Kelpie out of Gaslight; and the Railway Stakes of 5 Sovereigns each with £150 added, won by Rip Van Winkle. The Prince was present throughout the day and witnessed the races from the judge's box.

The British Army in Abyssinia.

An English officer writes: Senafe cuts no respectable figure on the map of Abyssinia and has been so much written about and talked about as one of our principal posts that I expected to find it a town, or at least a large village. I was considerably astonished, therefore, at being told, as we entered an open and rather barren looking valley, seemingly uninhabited, about two miles from the top of the Koomayle Pass, that this was Senafe, and I was just coming to the conclusion that the Senafians burrowed in warrens like rabbits, when I caught sight of two or three small clusters of watched hovels stowed away under the shelter of the mountain side. They are built with clay stuck with rough stones, and only about seven feet in height, with flat roofs, which must lead a hard life in the rainy season, but are of considerable length and breadth, having to hold all the proprietor's cattle and sheep, as well as the more immediate members of his family. No invidious distinctions, however, is to be made between his quadrapede and his blood relations. The former, in consideration of their number and size, have by far the largest share of the apartment assigned to their use, while a small space, marked off with stakes and twisted grass, is reserved as the parlor, bedroom, dining room and kitchen of the latter.

The house has naturally but one story and all the inmates seem to live amicably together on a perfect footing of equality and dirt.
Those half human habitations belong to a tribe of our trusty allies, the Shobos; though I conclude the tribe has a mixture of Abyssinian blood in it, as many of its members are Christians—the Christianity consisting chiefly in a bit of blue riband round the neck worn to show that they are not Mussulmans.
The genuine out and out Abyssinians live a few miles further from this, but I am told that many of their villages are very much in the Shobo style. I have not yet had time to explore any of them nor have I yet seen any of the people in our camp, though I hear they are slowly beginning to make their way into it. Two or three Tigre chiefs from a neighbouring district came yesterday to pay their respects to Colonel Meredith, and presented him with a jar of hydromel, and a cow, which last, however, took the first opportunity to run away, giving rise to an uncharitable suspicion on the part of the British that the animal was kept for purposes of presentation and trained into a patriotic preference for the interests of her fellow countrymen. The chiefs were full of polite and friendly offers of assistance and a fair supply of forage for the baggage animals—a most welcome offering —has been sent into the camp. As the word 'chief' has an imposing sound, which may mislead people at home into the notion that all Tigre is mustering its spears and bucklers in our aid, I ought perhaps to explain that chiefs here seem as common as colonels in America, and that these polite and friendly warriors were perhaps only the head men of some small group of mud cabins as those of Senafe, with no profounder political motive than the national instinct to get something out of a stranger. However, the little men seem to show which way the big men are inclined, and some of the chiefs, such as Kwasal and those I named in yesterday's letter, are really powers in the land.

Senafe, though rather disappointing to those who came expecting to see an Abyssinian town, is satisfactory enough from a strategic point of view. There is enough good camping ground for a large army and plenty of water. Our camp is pitched in an open, irregular valley, crowded at intervals with masses of mountains and rocks which would look lolly anywhere else, but are mere excesses on the table land of Abyssinia. At either end the valley winds round and swells into a plain, equally convenient for a camp and well adapted for the maneuvers of cavalry, more table land, spacious, but frequently interrupted by low ranges of hills, stretches away out to the east, but on the southwest the plateau abruptly breaks, and looking down from it, one sees as far as the eye can reach northward but one wild series of mountain chains, rising and falling in every variety of angles and elevation, until at last the horizon is bounded by a giant range which towers high above all the rest. Among them are several of those extraordinary falessees said to be a peculiar feature of this country—a square mass of rock, flat at the top, but with sides bare and steep as the walls of a fortress and having seemingly as little natural relation a fortress to the green mountain top on which they stand.

"SINGULAR ACCIDENT TO AN ACTRESS.— While Miss Ross was performing at Greenock the part of "Juliet," where the actress is supposed to stab herself, Miss Ross actually caused the dagger to pierce her flesh immediately over the region of the heart, causing blood to flow. Dr. Richmond, who happened to be in the boxes, was immediately called, and upon examination of the wound he ascertained that the weapon, having fortunately pierced the actress in an oblique direction, had escaped touching a fatal part. Fortunately the injury was not so severe as to prevent Miss Ross appearing on the following evening.—Glasgow Herald.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Unsolicited Testimony.—Mr. Rippon, Hairdresser of Exeter, in a letter dated July 1st, 1862. Writes:
"My wife had been a great sufferer for several years from bad legs. After trying many different applications for months together to no purpose, a lady strongly recommended your medicament, and I do assure you we feel most thankful to her and yourself for the perfect cure they have effected.
My wife is now able to take a walk of four or five miles with comfort. You may publish this letter, and I only hope it may be the means of inducing other sufferers to use your admirable remedies, which have proved a blessing indeed to us." Such testimonials are indisputable."

IMPERISHABLE!
The fragrance such as it is, of the ordinary toilet extracts, passes away in a few moments, and is lost forever; but the delicious perfume of the genuine MURRAY & LANMAN'S FLORIDA WATER can be removed from the handkerchief only by washing.

As there are worthless counterfeits, of this exquisite perfume, buyers should always ask for the Florida Water prepared by the sole proprietors, Lanman & Kemp, New York.

Are you Sick?
What is your ailment? Is your stomach weak and unable to digest? Are your bowels constipated, and producing piles? Is your liver deranged, hardened, and torpid, causing pain in the side, right breast, and under the shoulder-blade? Do not despair; there is hope and health for you in Bristol's Sugar-coated Pills and Bristol's Sasaparilla. Used together they will relieve you of every trace of sickness, and enable you to enjoy all the comforts and pleasures of life.

A CARD.

IN ORDER TO GUARD THE PUBLIC and all our old patrons against the ruin of the lowest and most dishonestly conducted business, we have the proprietors of the same on the bank of bankruptcy, we therefore, take great pleasure in informing the public and our friends that the GLOBE HOTEL, which we have for some time been endeavoring to revive on the same financial principles as heretofore, backed by an A No. 1 Meat Market, which in itself is sufficient attraction to support the GLOBE in sustaining its equilibrium on a healthy basis.

We would also warn travellers and the public in general against the assertions of one of the above "cats-a-meat peddlers"—who make it his particular business to lead the public astray, and try to injure an institution the reputation of which, for years, is so well known to the travelling community

CUES AND COMFORT FOR

THE BED-RIDDEN.

—BY—

Holloway's Ointment.

This wonderful Ointment acts like magic in relieving curing old sores, wounds, bad legs, ulcers and eruptions of the skin; when rubbed on the surface it penetrates and purifies each tissue on its passage, and exerts the most wholesome influence over the internal structure it heals by cleansing all animal fluids with which it comes in contact, and thereby promotes a sound and permanent cure.

Gout and Rheumatism.

Persons suffering from the attack of rheumatism and gout, when rubbed on the surface it penetrates and purifies each tissue on its passage, and exerts the most wholesome influence over the internal structure it heals by cleansing all animal fluids with which it comes in contact, and thereby promotes a sound and permanent cure.

All Varieties of Skin Diseases, Scrofula and Scorbuty.

This Ointment is a certain cure for Ringworm, Scabby Scrofula or King's Evil, and the most inveterate skin diseases to which the human race is subject. They cannot be treated with a safer or more speedy remedy than Holloway's Ointment, assisted by his celebrated Pills, which act powerfully on the constitution and so purify the blood that these disorders are completely eradicated from the system, and a lasting cure obtained.

Dropsical Swellings.

Swelling of the dangerous and stealthy complaint which frequently creeps upon us by slight inflammation or trifling jaundice, of which little or no notice is taken until the legs begin to swell. The cause of the evil must be looked for in the liver and stomach, therefore set to work earnestly by taking Holloway's famous Pills according to the printed instructions and rubbing the Ointment very effectively over the pit of the stomach and right side where these organs lie. Most dropsical cases will readily yield to the combined influence of the Ointment and Pills.

Piles, Fistulas, and Internal Inflammation.

These complaints are most distressing to both body and mind, it is a delicate concealing them from the knowledge of the most intimate friends. Persons who suffer from piles and similar complaints when they might set Holloway's Ointment with instant relief, and obtain cure without the annoyance of explaining their ailment to anyone.

Disorders of the Kidneys, Stone and Gravel.

Are immediately relieved and ultimately cured by this Ointment, which is rubbed twice a day, into the small of the back, over the regions of the kidneys to which it will gradually penetrate and in almost every case give immediate relief; but perseverance will be necessary to effect a rough cure.Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:—

Bad Legs, Cancer, and Scalds.

Bad Breasts, Ovarian and Sore Nipples.

Burns, Still Joints, Skin Diseases.

Bunions, Elephantiasis, Scrofula.

Bites of Mosquitoes, Gout, Sore Throat.

and Scalds, Gout, Sore Throat.

French Medicines, GRIMAULT & CO.

PREPARED BY

Chemists to H.I.P. Prince Napoleon,

PARIS.

These different medicines represent the most recent medical discoveries, founded on the principles of Chemistry and Therapeutics. They must not be confounded with secret or quack medicines, as their names sufficiently indicate their composition; a circumstance which has caused them to be appreciated and prescribed by the Faculty in the whole world. They widely differ from those numerous medicines advertised in the public papers as able to cure every possible disease, as they are applicable only to but a very few complaints. The most stringent laws exist in France with regard to the sale of medical preparations, and only those which have undergone an examination by the Academy of Medicine and have been proved efficacious, either in the hospitals or in the practice of the first medical men, are authorised by the Government. This fact must be a guarantee for the excellence of Messrs. Grimault & Co.'s Medicines.

NO MORE COD LIVER OIL!

Grimault's Syrup of Iodized

Horse Radish.

This medicine has been administered with the utmost success in the Hospitals of Paris. It is a perfect substitute for Cod Liver Oil, and has been found most beneficial in Diseases of the Chest, Scrofula, Lymphatic Disorders, Leucorrhoea, Stomachic Ailments, and Loss of Appetite. It regenerates the constitution in purifying the blood, it being the most powerful depurative known. It has also been applied with happy results in Diseases of the Skin. Further, it will be found to be of great benefit to young children subject to Humors and Obstructions of the Glands.

CONSUMPTION CURED!

Grimault's Syrup of Hypo-phosphite of Lime.

This new medicine is considered to be a sovereign remedy in case of Phthisis and other Diseases of the Lungs. It promptly removes the most serious symptoms. The cough is relieved, night perspirations cease and the patient is rapidly restored to health.

N.B.—Be sure to see that the signature of Grimault
